

GEORGE ROGERS CLARK | BANDS

April 15, 2020

Dear Parents,

I am consistently seeking out great educational opportunities for our students. Recently, George Rogers Clark High School was awarded the opportunity to participate in a program called the SOAR Scholarship Program. This program is provided by a collegiate recruitment platform called ScholarshipAuditions.com. Just as the name indicates, ScholarshipAuditions.com is the premier recruitment platform for students interested in pursuing performing fine arts beyond high school.

Our selection into the SOAR Program means that all performing fine arts students who attend (High School name) will be granted a 3-year, free subscription to ScholarshipAuditions.com. This subscription will allow your students to:

- Create a student profile to help promote them to University and Conservatory recruiters
- Upload video links of your students' performances to their profile (the number one feature college recruiters look for)
- Research performing arts scholarships and their list of Premier Universities
- Access ScholarshipAuditions.com's list of over 14,000 non-institutional scholarships
- Find the best programs for their performance discipline
- Find summer camps that will expand your students' skills

University recruiters are constantly looking for students who are a good fit for their summer camps, master classes, and their University Fine Arts programs. This site allows you easy access to scholarship money and helps your student get found. Additionally, students don't have to major in music to receive a music scholarship.

To sign your student up for this "free" Scholarship, simply click on the link below. This link will take you to the ScholarshipAuditions.com landing page. There you will create your free parent and student profile.
